

American Society for Virology

ASV 2022 Ann Palmenberg Junior Investigator Award

Details for eligibility

1. Last degree within 10 years of the application deadline
2. Must have an independent position
3. Applicants who applied for but did not receive a Junior Investigator Award may reapply for the 2022 award.
4. Applicants who received a previous Ann Palmenberg Junior Investigator Award may not apply.

Application package submitted by nominator

1. Application must be submitted by a current full member of ASV as nominator.
2. Applicant's Biographical Sketch using the attached template.
3. Applicant's contact information.
4. A nomination letter
5. Submit as an electronic submission of a single collated PDF (Items 2 - 4) to asv@asv.org, with the subject line: Application for ASV Junior Investigator Award.

Deadline: November 19, 2021

2022 ASV Ann Palmenberg Junior Investigator Award

- $1,000 cash award presented at the ASV 2022 meeting
- ASV 2022 Registration will be covered by the Society
- Engraved plaque
- 15-minute research talk to be scheduled in one of the morning Symposia at the 2022 ASV Annual Meeting, July 16-20, 2022, at the Monona Terrace in Madison, Wisconsin.

Decisions and Announcements:

The ASV Council will review all applications to identify awardees. The applicant's contributions to virology will be evaluated based on the nomination letter and the biographical sketch.

Awardees will be notified before the March 1, 2022 abstract submission deadline.

ASV members will learn of their colleagues' awards at the ASV 2022 meeting.